

REMARKS

Claims 1, 21, 22, and 23 have been amended. Claims 1-23 remain pending in the application. Applicants respectfully request further examination of the application, as amended.

Applicants have amended claims 1, 21, 22, and 23 to incorporate the limitation of a retro-reflective member having the ability to reflect a ray of light substantially in the direction of its source. While the specification in the application as filed, on page 6, lines 14-15, defined “retro-reflective” to mean “having the ability to reflect a ray of light substantially in the direction of its source”, the original claims including a retro-reflective means or member did not explicitly recite this definition. It is noted that the Examiner may have misunderstood Applicants’ use of the word “means” at page 6, lines 14, to refer to a functional “means” (noun) rather than the common use of “means” (verb) as a synonym for “is defined as.” Applicant submits that the sentence is grammatically correct only with the use of “means” to define the term “retro-reflective,” and, as is well known, the Applicant may be his own lexicographer.

In the Advisory Action, the Examiner rejected the above amendments, stating that “[t]he limitation ‘having the ability to reflect a ray of light substantially in the direction of its source’ in claims 1, 21, 22, and 23 raises new issues that would require further consideration and/or search.” Applicants respectfully traverse Examiner’s failure to enter the proposed amendment because the specification as originally filed defined “retro-reflective” to mean “having the ability to reflect a ray of light substantially in the direction of its source.”

In the Final Rejection, the Examiner appears to suggest that an amendment incorporating such a definition would overcome the rejection. By making these clarifying amendments, Applicants believe that the claims are allowable. Additionally, Applicants maintain that none of the references cited by the Examiner alone or in combination teach or disclose a retro-reflective means or member as defined and claimed in the present invention.

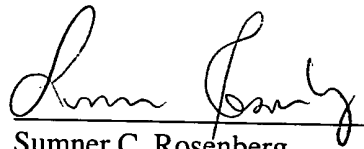

In the Final Rejection, the Examiner has maintained his rejections of all rejected claims for the reasons as stated in the first Office Action. These rejections are respectfully traversed for the reasons stated in the first Office Action response. Furthermore, in general, the dependent claims 2-19 recite further limitations to independent claim 1. Since, as stated above, the independent claims as amended are allowable, the dependent claims should also be allowed.
